A Special Message from the Editor

Hi everyone,

The Link Committee met with Stewart and Avril at the end of June and I am delighted to announce, that Avril will be taking over as editor from September this year. However, I am not totally retired; I am still on the Committee!

Thank you to everyone who has shown concern for the magazine being printed in black and white. It obviously costs more to print in colour and we are trying to keep costs down while keeping the standard of the magazine as high as possible. We will explore further options in the coming months to bring some colour back to the Link magazine.

Avril will be rearranging the advertising pages but I just want to draw your attention to 'Galloway & MacLeod's shopping store across from the Co op. Maybe consider popping in for a look around to see if they have any goods or services that you could use. Lilypad Boutique has changed hands but still has a lovely range of children's clothing for sale if you are looking to buy a gift. For our local shopping community to survive, it is good to try to Keep it Stonehouse as often as we can.

Pauline Bulloch has been advertising in the magazine for many years and if anyone is looking for her details I am afraid she has now moved out of the area.

As a committee, we also want to wish Ruth Templeton every happiness as she moves away to a new home in a new town. Ruth has been a faithful distributor for many years for which we are really grateful for. Our contributions from readers and advertisers in June exceeded £950. Sincere thanks to everyone who supported us.

Margaret Murray or myself are normally in the vestibule two weeks after Link goes out, however, we both have some personal commitments arranged for September. So we have changed things a bit! Margaret Murray will be at church on Sunday 10th September and Sunday 1st October'17, for any donations from distributors. Sorry to cause you any inconvenience by changing the familiar routine on this occasion.

Our meeting at the manse was lovely and the future of the magazine looks promising as Stewart and Avril intend to work as a team creating the diary/ events page and developing ideas to incorporate new articles from a range of sources. It is an exciting time as Stewart and Avril take the helm.

What's the story?

Years ago there was a famous advert where a particular bank declared it was "The bank that likes to say Yes!". The fact I, and probably you, remember that advert years later means it was pretty successful, but it is one of those statements that doesn't actually mean anything. I'm sure saying 'yes!' to a customer is a good experience for a banker. It means you are getting business and interest payments, but the bank in question wasn't saying that it said yes to applicants more often than other banks, just that it liked it when it did say yes.

Stories are important. Jesus told stories to help people understand what God is like and how they, and we, could live better lives. The way we talk about ourselves as a church can make a huge difference to how people think about us and what we do and who God is. It can help people to imagine themselves taking the step to join in... or not.

I wonder what story we as the community of St Ninian's Church tell about ourselves? How would we describe our church community to our family, friends and neighbours, not in some empty slogan that doesn't really mean anything, but in a story that allows people to see the truth of God's love for all of us as we stumble along, trying to follow where God leads us. Sometimes people think churchgoers are all people who have everything worked out, or a bunch of hypocrites who pretend to be holier than thou but are anything but. Perhaps we help to tell one of those stories rather than the truth. We are all just trying to make sense of our faith and do the best we can to work out our doubts and disasters.

It seems that we have a strong sense of who we are; welcoming, friendly, and a place which offers a sense of peace and hope to people, and a place to encounter God. I wonder how we can tell people that? I wonder how we can pass on the positive things we have received from taking part in all the things that happen at St Ninian's? I wonder how we pass on the story of our own encounters with God?

Mission just means telling our story about us and God. It's not much more complicated than that. It's telling the story about how God has made a difference to us and how being part of the community of St Ninian's has helped and encouraged us.

I'm looking forward to being able to tell our story to all the people I meet in Stonehouse and beyond. I hope you are excited to tell our story too.

God bless,

Stewart

Holiday Club

This year's Holiday Club took place over three, action packed, days in August, culminating in our family service on Sunday 13th.

The theme was Mission: Rescue. It followed the Scripture Union holiday club programme and incorporated Moses' journey, from birth to rescuing the Israelites from slavery in Egypt. Our spies were split into teams and were set various missions to complete. They had codes to crack, bombs to diffuse, spy vehicles to make (and race!) and treasure to find. There were jokes (some funnier than others), games, crafts and lots of sweets! All missions earned points for the spy teams and the winners were announced at the Sunday service. Well done Team Moses!!

When organising Holiday Club, we aimed to ensure that all children, including those who had little to no church background, were able to identify with God and understand the story of Moses. We also started the day with the Lord's Prayer, which a few children didn't know. We had a really successful week with most children attending all 3 days.

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all our helpers for their time and hard work.

If you would like to help next year, please see either myself or Nicola Hampton. You will be made extremely welcome and there is always cakes and scones!

Reflections on Flowers

We have always grown sweet peas. My husband grew named varieties from seed. As they progressed they were moved from indoors to the cold frame and then into the ground. We erected frames for them to grow on and as they grew he would cut the tendrils and attach each stem with a ring to the frame to support the plant. This meant that the tendrils did not sap the strength from the plant, nor did they catch the stem of the bloom and cause it to grow twisted and distorted instead of long and straight.

This year we did not get the seeds planted and I was unable to erect the big frame but I did want to grow sweet peas. I compromised and with help erected wig-wams and I bought plants from a garden centre.

Initially I was disappointed at my effort because the flowers were very sparse. I fed them and the rain and sun did the rest – I now have an abundance of flowers.

As I did not cut the tendrils off and ring the plants to the support, the tendrils have trapped the stems and some are bent and twisted but the flower is still beautiful and highly perfumed, others are long and straight.

This reminded me of how God loves us all no matter what shape or form we are. We are all precious to Him and beautiful in His sight just as the sweet peas are beautiful to me. As I look at them, I like to think that I'm getting a nod of approval too.

Ann Woods

There is a Quiet Light

*There is a quiet light that shines in every heart.
It draws no attention to itself though it is always secretly there.
It is what illuminates our minds to see beauty,
our desire to seek possibility and our hearts to love life.
Without this subtle quickening our days would be empty and wearisome, and no horizon would ever awaken our longing.
Our passion for life is quietly sustained from somewhere in us that is wedded to the energy and excitement of life.
This shy inner light is what enables us to recognize and receive our very presence here as blessing.*

John O'Donohue, Benedictus

We are delighted to say that we have been advised by the Scottish Charity Regulator that we can retain the name of 'Hope Cafe' and there is no need for us to change our name as it is just a change of Board members. This news is great as it is testament to the work that Donna Barrowman put in to the set up of The Hope Café in Lanark and to all the work that Lisa Cameron carried out in bringing the Hope Café to Stonehouse.

On a personal note I am thrilled as the SuperMandy Fund became involved with the Hope Café in Lanark and then Stonehouse and can now continue supporting same.

It has been lovely to see old and new faces at the Hope Café during the Summer and I hope everyone has enjoyed visiting us. The Hope Café offers a friendly welcome, lots of ears to listen if you want a chat, support with mental health, and if you wish you can try one of our lovely therapies on offer.

We will be on every second Thursday from 17th August - please feel free to pay us a visit - look forward to seeing you.

Secretary of Hope Café

Webb Ivory

Usually in this issue of LINK I would be inviting you to view the card and gift catalogues that raise money for church funds. Unfortunately that is not happening this year because I have had contact from Webb Ivory saying they are no longer trading.

I would like to thank most sincerely everyone who has supported this fund raising over past 10 years and am sorry that it has come to an end.....guess I need to put on my thinking cap to try to raise funds from some other source and all suggestions will be gratefully received. CHURCH DIARIES will still be available at same price of £1.50 or 4 for £5.00

Thanks again

Youth Fellowship Reunion 26th November 2017 at 7pm

I am holding a reunion for the YF who attended between 1995 and 2006, when I was leader. I keep in touch with some of you but would love to catch up with those who used to come along on a Sunday evening to St Ninian's.

So, all you budding 'would be' football professionals and Spice Girl groupies, let's get together. I might even serve hot chocolate, marshmallows, and cream like the 'old' days.

Can anyone reading this please share with family members and friends of anyone who used to come along!

Email me at jilliancstorrie@yahoo.co.uk or text 07824 556963 or drop me a message on Facebook. You can help me set up a Twitter account for 26th!

Church Meeting

On Saturday 19th August, 37 people from St Ninian's met for the day to think about who we are as a congregation and where we might want to go in future.

We began by exploring the story of Jonah, which may seem a strange place to start. We tried our best to remember the story and then read it to discover what we had missed. We found out that there isn't a whale! It's a big fish. We also found out that the story had much more in it than we had expected. God seemed to be teaching Jonah a lesson about just who was in charge, and it wasn't Jonah!

Sometimes in church we get caught up in what's known as a 'deficit' model. We look for problems and try to solve them. What if instead of looking for things we are not good at we looked for things we are good at and build on those? So, we shared our own stories, focussing on our positive experiences of St Ninian's and trying to work out if there were any common themes which linked our experiences. There were: welcome, friendship, a sense of peace and hope.

After lunch we used a tool called Ketso (which means 'action') to help us think about how St Ninian's can flourish. Our branches were 'Worship', 'Community' and 'Learning' with groups free to add another branch. They chose 'Children & Youth', 'Outreach' and 'Communication'. Our task was to put new ideas on the branches, then work out what resources we already had to make these happen and think about what else we might need and if there was anything that might cause problems.

In worship, people suggested different times and styles of service and to encourage more people of all ages to take part. In learning people were keen to have the chance to learn more about the Bible. In community we hoped to see a group for men, toddlers and perhaps a lunch club where people could learn to prepare food for their family.

These were just some of the ideas. If you have more then we'd love to hear them!

What would you love to see at St Ninian's?
What resources do we already have to help do that?
What else would we need?
What needs might be met?

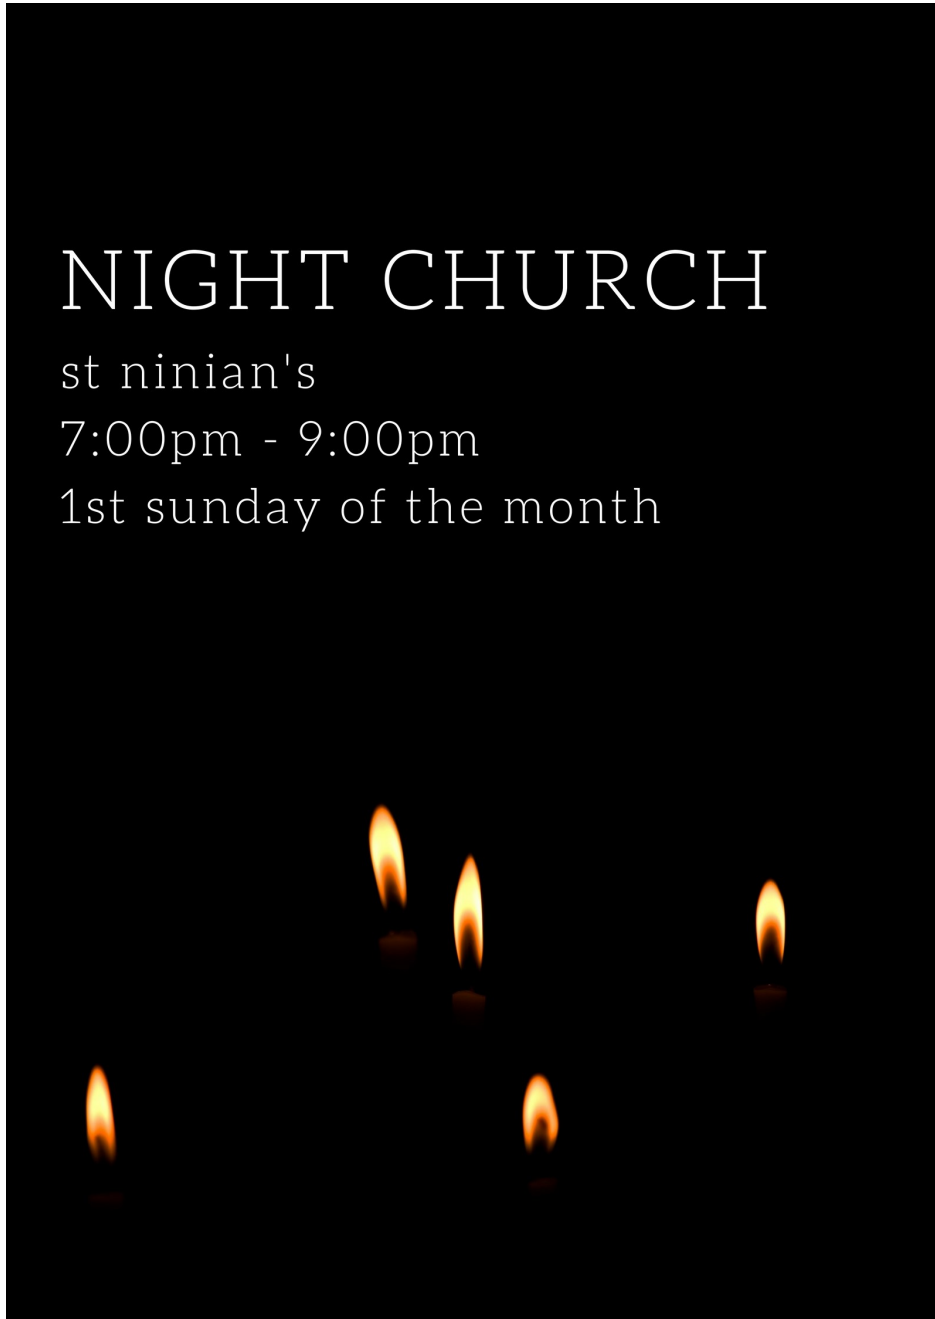

If you have email then send them to Stewart at revstewartcutler@gmail.com or come and speak to him after the service any Sunday!

Hi Folks!

Well, we've had a busy few months. Stewart has settled in well in the last four months at St Ninian's.

We had the holiday club in August when 28 children came along three mornings and had great fun making crafts, playing games, listening to Bible stories and enjoying themselves and our Sunday service highlighted the activities they had been taking part in throughout the week. It was great fun to join in! A big thank you on behalf of the Kirk session to all the helpers for their hard work and dedication.

Unfortunately we have had to say goodbye to some of our faithful members:

May Mathews on the 10th May
May Burns on the 8th July
Ruby Russell on the 13th July
Rita Canning on the 24th July
Eileen Morrison on the 9th August

They will all be sadly missed and our thoughts and prayers are with their friends and families.

Funeral services also took place at St Ninian's for Pat Kelly, Andy Hamilton and William Plenderleith. Again, we hold their families in our prayers.

On a happier note we have had two weddings and three baptisms since the start of the year. It's a privilege to be able to welcome families to our church community in times of celebration and bereavement.

The organisations will have started back after the summer holidays when you read this, and we will be in full swing for another busy year.

We are still looking to replace the windows at the front of the church, which is urgent and also the electrics and other fabric of the church. Jillian Storrie is looking at funding which is no easy task so please keep her in your prayers.

The Guild plan a Beetle Drive on the 11th September in the church hall as part of our fundraising so please come along and join us. Tickets are £3 but this includes lovely home baking ... yum, yum!

Bob Millar is hoping to have the craft fayre again in October so please contact him if you would like a table, dates to be confirmed soon.

The Christian Aid Sing-a-long is in the church on Sunday 17th December at 6.30pm.

The Pastoral care team are still visiting the homes and sheltered housing on a regular basis along with Stewart who leads the service.

We have lots of activities going on in the church and halls and the support I receive from elders and members is very much appreciated.

We are richly blessed at St Ninian's with the folks who attend each Sunday giving a warm welcome to visitors as well as friends, elders, and members who give of their time and talents freely and willingly.

God bless
Margaret

Coffee Morning Returns

Don't forget folks that that coffee morning will resume once again on Tuesday 5th September, 10am until 11.30.

Everyone is welcome!

Hello everyone!

What we're up to until Christmas

As we go into the Autumn session of The Guild, we are all looking forward to our coach trip to Dundee.

We start our first meeting on Monday 11th September at 7.30pm with a Beetle Drive. The tickets are £3.00 and there will be home baking. It will be a good night with lots of laughs! If you would like to come along, please see a committee member of you can pay at the door.

On 9th October, our speaker will be John Young who will be telling us some local ghost stories which I am sure we will find scary but interesting.

The 13th of November is our Guest Night and we're happy to confirm that The Easter Group will be entertaining us.

We finish the year on 11th December with our Christmas Party which is always very popular.

You don't need to be a member of the church to join The Guild. If you would like to attend you will be made very welcome. I am sure there will be someone you already know.

All of our meetings start at 7.30pm. If you need a lift, we can arrange for someone to collect you and take you home again.

We look forward to seeing you soon.

From Bill ... the new guy balancing the books!

Having recently taken over from Gavin, the first thing I would like to do is express my thanks to Gavin for his time and support during the handover period. Indeed this is till ongoing as I get used to all the different aspects associated with the role.

Do I know what I have let myself in for? Who knows! Only time will tell but what I can tell you is that I am really looking forward to it. I appreciate that there is a great deal of responsibility attached to the position, however, that said, I want it to be enjoyable, informative, and productive. With that in mind, I will need YOUR support as a congregation and community as we take the next steps forward for project St Ninian's.

There is an extensive list of work that we need to undertake over the next few years; necessary work that will allow St Ninian's to remain a focal point in the village for community based activities. I am sure that, God willing together with a 'team' approach, we will once again adopt to achieve these objectives and will go from strength to strength.

That said, it would be remiss of me, even at this early stage of my tenure, if I did not echo Gavin's previous statement regarding the day to day finances for running our Church. Our income and expenditure figures are extremely tight and, over the course of the next few weeks, I will be looking to finalise an interim report on where we are to date. There is, however, good news within this analysis as the new heating system would appear to be doing its job and early indicators are that this will certainly be positive for our energy supply costs.

One thing that is really important to me is that, as a congregation, you know that if you have any questions, require information, or are looking to engage in any way shape or form, then please feel free to do so. Primarily, I am accountable to you, working within a team ethic and from an informed positive are two fundamental cornerstones to ensuring that we move forward with a collective spirit.

Lastly, having started with a thank you I will finish with one. My thanks also go to Myra Pate. On agreeing to take up this position I stated that I would do so but would be happier with a number two in tow. Myra has stepped up to the plate to fulfil that role so, on behalf of us both, let's look forward to this new chapter for St Ninian's; not only in a financial context but across the wider spectrum as we journey together.

God Bless
Bill
Treasurer

Words of Thanks

"I would like to thank everyone for all the cards, flowers (including Church flowers), the warmth I experienced during my illness this year. It really helped me on the way to recovery."

On behalf of the Finance Committee I would also like to thank all the 'Coin in the Box' contributors. It is amazing how it mounts up! Thank you very much."

Pat Thornton

"Rita Cannings' family would like to take this opportunity to say a heartfelt thank you to all who attended her funeral and who supported her daughter, Carol, throughout her bereavement. The greatest comfort during our sorrow was the expressions of sympathy conveyed to us in many ways. We deeply appreciate your thoughtfulness and thank you most sincerely."

A special thank you to Margaret McGregor for going above and beyond the call of duty and to Stewart who provided, as many mentioned, a beautiful service for Rita."

To all, many thanks and God Bless
